Classroom Teacher (Full-Time Position)

Riverside School is in search of a highly-motivated, experienced, and creative homeroom teacher for a classroom of 8-10 students with dyslexia. The successful candidate must be committed to differentiation to meet learning needs and will receive extensive training in the Orton-Gillingham (O-G) Approach to teaching children with dyslexia.

Qualifications:
- Valid Virginia teacher licensure, endorsement in Special Education or Reading Specialist preferred
- At least three years of teaching experience preferred

Hours and Compensation:
- Full-time position with retirement and health care benefits
- School week is Monday-Friday, 7:30 AM until 3:30 PM
- School-year calendar is similar to other Richmond-area public and private schools

Additional Information:
- Small school of 96 students promotes teacher collaboration and shared sense of community
- Classroom teacher planning time is a priority, and students go to specials teachers in weekly classes in art, music, library, as well as daily PE classes
- Spacious Bon Air campus allows for recess and student outdoor enjoyment
- Teacher professional development is encouraged and supported
- Students are carefully selected to match school's mission

How to Apply:
Please send a cover letter, résumé, and three references to Operations & HR Manager Denise Glidden at dglidden@riversideschool.org.

About Riverside School:
For 50 years, Riverside's mission has been to transform the lives of students with dyslexia and similar language-based learning differences while supporting a community of highly-trained teachers and staff who specialize in educating these students to their highest potential.

Riverside's faculty utilize the principles of the Orton-Gillingham (O-G) Approach, a research-validated approach to reading instruction that serves as the foundation for the school's programs and is fully integrated into classroom core subject instruction. Riverside is one of only 20 schools world-wide accredited by the Orton-Gillingham Academy.